What to expect today

You have heard a lot about

- the features of the technology,
- how it differentiates itself from other technology,
- and how much savings the technology enables.

After the technology has been in use for more than 13 years, it is time to look at the achieved benefits.

This is what will be shared with you today.

What to expect today

Fieldbus offers benefits at every stage of the project implementation, during

- the FEED study
- design
- commissioning
- operation
- and maintenance,

eventually leading to CAPEX and OPEX savings.

Today's presentations will explore these benefits.

Smart Lucky Draw

- You already have the “Smart Lucky draw form” in your handout material, and we will hand out the feedback form during/after the lunch break
- A question appears at the end of each presentation. Circle the correct answer on the Smart Lucky draw form.
- Return your Smart Lucky Draw form together with the Feedback form during the last tea break
 - Late submissions are not entitled
 - Both forms must be returned
- We will draw until we have three winners with all answers correct.
